Overview

Welcome to 122 Burke Drive, a unique and charming residence nestled in Monroeville, PA. This striking three-bedroom, two-full-bath home stands out as the only stone house on the block, offering a distinctive and timeless appeal. As you approach the property, the beautiful stone faade immediately captures attention. Inside, the home features a warm and inviting atmosphere, highlighted by two stone wood fireplaces. These fireplaces not only provide cozy warmth during colder months but also add a touch of rustic charm and character to the home. A highlight of the property is the nice backyard, providing a perfect space for outdoor activities and relaxation. This home is waiting for a family to add their own personal touches and make it their own. With its solid stone construction, inviting features, and a delightful backyard and deck, 122 Burke Drive offers a unique canvas for creating lasting memories.
