Overview

This 14 acre tract is the perfect building site for someone wanting to build their forever home! It has land that is currently in row crop production that would be easy to build a home on, or you could keep it in production! There is a mixture of hardwoods in the middle of this property to see wildlife as well. This property is also in the right area for big deer. There is lots of timber nearby that will bring the deer into this place. With it already being an awesome investment, this property also gives you income every year. Don't miss out on it!
