Overview

Let your mind wander with the possibilities. There are many options to consider. This property can be a forever home, a summer retreat, or a rental income property—you decide. The back house can be a rental investment, a place for friends and family to use while visiting, or an in-law suite. At the same time, you live close by in the front house. Both houses need significant repairs and upgrades. This lets you personalize the property with your plans, designs, and imagination to help you realize your dreams. This is an estate sale. The home is being sold AS IS.
