Overview

Presenting an exquisite and recently remodeled Eddie Kesky-designed estate, perfectly positioned within the coveted community of Rossmoor in Los Alamitos. This luxurious residence is situated on an oversized lot, offering an unparalleled blend of elegance and comfort. A short, picturesque stroll along tree-lined streets leads you to award-winning schools and parks. This grand 6-bedroom home exudes immense curb appeal. It features a stately faade complemented by a 3-car garage, majestic palm trees, and mature landscaping that gracefully directs you to the welcoming front walkway. Spanning an impressive 4, 274 square feet, the estate showcases a series of high-end upgrades, including brand-new hardwood floors, custom tile work, soaring ceilings, and abundant natural light streaming through numerous windows. The main level boasts multiple living areas, a formal dining room, and a spacious, remodeled kitchen with new cabinets, countertops, a gas cooktop, and a walk-in pantry. Additional highlights include a dedicated laundry room and two versatile bedrooms, one currently utilized as an office/den. Ascend to the upper level, where you will find a palatial primary suite complete with a fireplace, sitting area, space for exercise equipment, and a luxurious ensuite featuring a large soaking tub and separate shower. The upper floor also houses three more generously sized bedrooms, each with an adjoining bathroom, making it ideal for accommodating family and guests. The expansive 8, 500-square-foot lot is perfectly designed for entertaining, with multiple dining and seating areas, all beautifully manicured and landscaped to ensure privacy. With all-new neutral paint, central air conditioning, copper plumbing, and a host of other significant upgrades, this home has been meticulously maintained and thoughtfully rebuilt to accommodate even the largest of families. Experience the epitome of luxury living in this remarkable Rossmoor estate.
