Overview

Looking for a home that offers everything you need on one level and a basement level with tons of storage and more living space, well you need to look at this Ranch home located in Hidden Hills Subdivision. The main level of the home has 1850 sq ft of living space, with open living dining rooms and, a galley-type kitchen that is open to a family room that features a fireplace, walk-out to a deck area and breakfast area. The sizable primary bedroom offers a large walk-in closet and an on-suite bath thats flooded with daylight from the skylight. On the opposite side of the home are two other bedrooms, both nice size and both share a full bath. This level of the home also has a laundry/mud room off the attached two-car garage. The basement level of the home has a media room, two guest bedrooms or could be used as a home office, a full bath, and lots of unfinished areas for storage or more living space.
