Overview

Welcome to the quintessential new old house. This home has undergone a full renovation and its original character and detail have been preserved. Original wood floors have been beautifully refinished and the floor plan has been opened up to maximize square footage and useful space. Renovations include a brand new kitchen with granite countertops, new cabinets and appliances, recessed lighting throughout the home, first floor laundry, and the addition of a first floor master bedroom suite with its own private deck. Three full bathrooms are completely renovated and feature beautiful tile and vanities. The second floor with two bedrooms, a living room, and its own kitchen, has many possibilities. Plumbing and electrical have been upgraded and a brand new high efficiency Navien boiler serves the entire home. Sited at the end of a quiet street, next to wooded land, this property is very peaceful. A detached two-car garage provides a bonus space for storage. 22 Oakland Avenue is just minutes to the highway, downtown Providence, and Federal Hill restaurants. No detail has been overlooked in this thoughtful transformation! Please note that property tax does not reflect homestead exemption
