Overview

What do you get when you cross an 1800's antique cape and a skilled marine craftsman? The result is truly amazing. Stepping inside of 46 Killeran you will see period details and design elements long covered over or obscured with paint honored with meticulous restoration. At the same time, hidden just beneath the surface, all of the modern technology and conveniences one could want. The main section of the original 1820 home features hand hewn peg and beam ceilings that had been long hidden away, restored and exposed by the homeowners - a nod to the craftsmen who hand built the house over 200 years ago. From there the home has been painstakingly renovated, restored where appropriate, updated to modern standards and expanded over the past 26 yrs of stewardship. In 2006, the owners built the two story addition which included the oversized 2 car garage and new kitchen. The solarium / conservatory is bound to become one of your favorite nooks to relax in with a great book, sip your morning coffee and observe the newest family of ducks paddling across your own pond or simply catch some zzz's on a lazy Sunday afternoon. The home is at once warm and inviting and its smart layout offers guests private space while ample common areas welcome all together for meals and entertaining. Enjoy the comfort of AC heatpumps in summer or step outside to the private oasis that the homeowners have created including several decks and a large patio with exquisite stonework. At the center of it all, a shimmering in ground pool and adjacent hot tub enhance the outdoor living experience. If you have equestrian interests, the horse barn with power and water sits at the edge of the property. Every care has been taken to weatherize and protect the property from the elements. The basement is clean and dry and home to the newer mechanicals including a Buderus boiler and heat pump hot water heater. The pride of ownership and quality of work is evident and nothing has been left undone.
