Overview

Nestled in the woods of New Haven, Kentucky is where you will find this hidden gem offering a tranquil escape from the hustle and bustle of everyday life to make it your perfect weekend getaway! As you enter the woods you come upon a rustic cabin sporting that iconic cabin look and fostering that classic cabin feel. The cabin is surrounded by towering trees making it feel so secluded and private yet you're just off New Haven Road (Route 31E) and only 7 minutes from Log Still Distillery which hosts an illustrious summer concert series every year along with other top-notch touring attractions. Inside... the cabin hosts an open room that is wonderful for gatherings and made complete with a loft that offers space for lodging and a kitchenette furnishing lots of rustic cabinetry. If you were wanting more space... the basement has you covered as it provides an area for storage, shelter, or fun as a rec room, and also walks out to a covered deck. Speaking of decks... the top level has an amazing wrap-around deck that is just the spot to sit back and relax as you enjoy the serene sounds of nature while the front of the cabin juts out into a covered pavilion and features a grand outdoor fireplace making it great for entertaining friends and family. The property comes with 16.17 acres (+/-) of wooded land making it your personal playground for hiking, wildlife, and many other outdoor activities! It's not hard... if you're wanting to get in touch with nature... all you have to do is get in touch with RYAN HALEY. So, go on and pick up that phone... nature is calling!
