Overview

A Timeless Beauty—Nestled in the heart of Hickory, this 1949 classic is known as The Whitener Home. Julian G. Whitener's vision for the city still resonates today, just as the intricate architecture and lush landscape create a timeless charm throughout this sprawling 1.1-acre landmark. This distinguished home offers a gracious layout with close proximity to downtown and Lenoir Rhyne. A delightful array of flowers lends an inviting entrance, while the ageless foyer makes the perfect entry statement. Welcome your guests into the formal dining room or enjoy a more casual setting on the screened deck as you delight in the rose garden. With ample room to entertain, you will relish the serenity of two primary suites and two added bedrooms with full baths. While the main level provides formal and informal areas, you will also enjoy a spacious kitchen, mud room, laundry, powder room and abundant storage. Downstairs is perfect for games and parties. Embrace the serenity this home offers.
