Great Agricultural and Development Potential About the Area: Castellon)or Castello is a province in the northern part of the Valencian Community. it is bordered by the provinces of Valencia to the south, Teruel to the west, Tarragona to the north, and by the Mediterranean Sea to the east. The western side of the province is in the mountainous Sistema iberico area. Castellon's capital is Castellon de la Plana (Valencian: Castello de la Plana). The province had a population of 579,962 at the start of 2019,30% of whom were residing in the capital, 60% in its metropolitan area, and 85% along the coastline. As of the 2011 Census, the population had grown to 594,423 people, but has since declined. The province, and in particular its idle large airport, has become a symbol of the wasteful spending prior to the 2008-14 Spanish financial crisis. it is a bilingual territory whose inhabitants speak both Spanish and the local co-official language Valencian. Other major cities of the province include Vila-real, Borriana, La Vall d'Uixo and Vinaros. There are 135 municipalities in Castellon; see List of municipalities in Castellon. Castellon is the home of Penyagolosa, the highest mountain of the province. The Greenwich Meridian (the Prime Meridian) passes through the province; there are localities with commemorative monuments such as La Pobra Tornesa, Castellon or Almassora (Paseo Maritimo), and in Castellon it intersects the 40th parallel, and the exact point can be visited at the Meridian Park. Contact Euroresales Ltd for more information.
